Multi-Mode Hand-Held Metal Detector

TRANSIT is the latest advance in hand-held metal detectors, offering higher and self-adjusting sensitivity in detecting any type of concealed conductive metal, from pins, razor blades and keys, to knives and handguns. Materials detected include ferrous, non-ferrous and stainless steel items. TRANSIT's highly efficient circuit allows 2,000 searches with a 10% alarm rate on one 9-Volt battery.

Optional ballistic Nylon holster for carrying TRANSIT on a duty belt or mounting inside a police car.

Safe for operators and subjects, even involving pregnancies or pacemakers. CE approved. Complies with F.A.A. (U.S. Federal Aviation Administration) standards. Complies with F.C.C. (U.S. Federal Communications Commission) standards. Complies with Electrical Safety Standard IEC 529. United States & World Patents Pending. United States and World Design Patents Pending.

Made in the USA of domestic and imported parts

Electronic Circuit: Instead of manual adjustment with a screwdriver, TRANSIT's sensitivity adjusts itself automatically: Unlike other detectors, when TRANSIT detects metal, it alarms for several seconds, then resets to zero, ready to detect any further metal items.
